Daily Tribal Operations

Thomas Kazik II – News reporter

When the Stockbridge Munsee Community opened back up you may have noticed each building has a piece of paper on the door. This is a preventative management plan which gives you things each tribal department are following during this COVID-19 pandemic. Some buildings are isolated from the public, working via phone or email, while others are taking appointments to see visitors. In the morning all employees have their temperatures taken and are asked if they have any symptoms like headaches, muscle pain or loss of breath. Hand sanitizer is also offered at every tribal building. Precautions on this list are just added safety measures for everyone to follow. All visitors are required to wear a mask when entering a building. Visitors are also required to sign in and wait for the person they have made the appointment with. All doors are locked, and visitors need to knock or call ahead of time to verify an appointment. Buildings are asking visitors to self-disinfect, washing their hands thoroughly. The offices also have the right to refuse entry if someone appears sick or refuses to cooperate.

Guests who have appointments at the Tribal office and administration will get their temperature taken upon entering the building. Food Distribution is following a no contact order by having appointments made and then opening either your trunk or door to get the goods. The housing building is bringing the documents or paperwork visitors may need outside after people call.

Stockbridge-Munsee President

Shannon Holsey on Juneteenth

Juneteenth isn’t just a celebration of emancipation—it’s a celebration we need to make as a nation of our commitment to make it real. Put another way, it’s difficult to celebrate freedom when your life is defined by oppression on all sides. Juneteenth is a celebration of human dignity and freedom, but it’s also a reminder of the dark and irrevocable original sin of this nation, the structural and social effects of which we are sadly still grappling with today.

It is important to understand that privilege is experienced differently by people all over this country. Careful examination of our lived experiences, biases, privileges, prejudices and their relationship to race, power, economics and justice/inequity are critical to unraveling and rebuilding an equitable and just society. Then true emancipation and equity can be truly experienced.

Juneteenth, Jamelle Bouie reminds us that it is a celebration of emancipation but also “a celebration of the commitment” to “liberty and equality.” This idea—that the day’s significance lies in our stated “commitment,” not necessarily our accomplishments—should be key to our celebration. We must organize… strategize …mobilize … vote … for social reform and judicial equality #all oppression is connected#

Virtual Family Center

The Mohican Family Center is very excited to roll out their virtual services to the community’s youth and families. A trial run of services began the last full week of June and will continue until such time the COVID-19 guidelines are relaxed enough to gradually begin to offer on-site ser-vices again. If you are a social media user, please checkout the Mohican Family Center’s (MFC) new Facebook page, if you are not then please look for the link on the Community’s Official Website www.mohican.com under Services, click on Family Center. The MFC staff are working collaboratively to create family friendly activities that promote health, safety and well-being. The trial week of activities included designing a Stockbridge Stone, which was either painted or modge podged with a positive message on it, to be left in a location for others to find. An array of coloring sheets for all ages, mind games (word search, sudoku, Family cont on page Seven:

In the 06-15-20 issue of the Mohican News, we asked if anyone could help identify the children in this photo. Low and behold, one of the children in the picture responded and graciously provided us the names.

Language Classes to Resume

Heather Bruegl, Director of Cultural Affairs

As we are trying to get back to a new sense of normal, we are finding ways to bring back some activities and continue to practice social distancing guidelines. We are excited to announce that we will be bringing back our Mohican and Munsee language classes and they will be taking place entirely online.

Munsee classes will take place on Monday’s at 5:30 pm CST. They will be taught by Nikole Webster. Nikole originally started out with us earlier this year teaching Mohican, but after an instructor change, she will be taking over the Munsee classes.

Mohican classes will take place on Wednesday’s at 5:30 pm CST. These classes will be taught by Brock Schreiber. Brock is taking over the Mohican classes that were first taught by Nikole earlier this year.

So how do you join the classes? It is super easy! Simply follow these steps:

1. Provide your email address to Language Manager Molly Miller or Director of Cultural Affairs Heather Bruegl
   a. Molly.miller@mohican-nsn.gov
   b. Heather.bruegl@mohican-nsn.gov
2. Download the Google Meet App to whatever device you are using
3. Log into your email at least 5 minutes before class starts
4. Open the Google Meet Email and then click Join Meeting

That’s it! Super easy! Each class will be recorded and then later uploaded to the Arvid E. Miller Library Museum and Cultural Affairs Department Facebook page as well as our website. We are really excited to be able to bring the classes back to you in a safe and socially distance way!
In these trying times it is always nice to see and feel the care, compassion and generosity of others. On Tuesday, June 9, 2020, the Mohican Family Center received a package of facemasks, tailored to fit the youth of our community. If and when we are able to offer in-person services, the Mohican Family Center and Family Services programs will have the cutest masks to equip our youth with.

These masks were made by Natasha Hildebrand and donated in honor of her grandparents George and Priscilla Church. We here at the Mohican Family Center would like to thank Mrs. Hildebrand for her amazing craftsmanship and thoughtful donation.

NOTICE TO DESCENDANTS

Purchased/Referred Care Service Funding has nearly been exhausted for the 2020 Fiscal year. As announced in the past, Purchased/Referred Care funds, which are federal funds used to pay for medical services that cannot be provided at the Stockbridge-Munsee Health & Wellness Center, are limited. PRC funds usually deplete within the first half of each fiscal year, then funding is provided by the tribe using Tribally Funded Referral Service funds.

The date for the transfer of funds will be June 1st, 2020, all referrals made for after this date will follow the TFRS rules. If you have any questions, please call the PRC staff at 715-793-4144.

Enrolled, first generation and second-generation descendants of the Stockbridge-Munsee Tribe are eligible for PRC funds. Once these funds are exhausted the TFRS funds cover enrolled, first generation are on a priority system and second generation are no longer covered.

All first generation are now on medical priority level one, per the Stockbridge-Munsee Purchased/Referred Care Medical Priority Guidelines, priority one means Emergency, threat to life, limb, senses (diagnosis and treatment of injuries or conditions that, if left untreated, result in uncertain/potentially grave outcome.

If you have any questions, please call, the Purchased/Referred Care manager, Kashy Coyhis or Health Center Director, Andrew Miller at 715-793-4144.

The upcoming elections are going to be very important. Everyone needs to make sure their friends and family are pre-registered to vote in the November election. In Wisconsin, one can register to vote online through their checking account.
Greetings Elders!

I hope you are all well and having many good days!

All Elderly Services staff members are back at work, as of Tuesday, May 26th, and are busy catching up!

Entry doors will remain locked and staff will receive visitors by appointment only. Please call the main line at 715-793-4236 to make appointments, this is for your safety and ours.

Re-opening will be done in phases and a begin date has not been set yet.

During the lockdown staff members, Roger, DeAnna, Jamie and Bill began delivering meals to community members who requested them, as the congregate meals site was closed for the safety of the general public. During this time, staff members began driving three routes and delivering nearly 100 meals! Home delivered meals remain available and for those of you who went back to work you can pick up a “meal to go” if you would like to. Please call 715-793-4236 and let us know if this is what you want to do so we have a Carry-Out meal ready for you. Pull up to the kitchen door at NOON for pick-up.

Unfortunately, at this time, we are not yet ready to begin serving meals or hosting activities (bingo, card and board games) at the elderly center. Entry doors will remain locked, staff will receive visitors by appointment only, as we continue to use precautionary measures when creating a safe re-opening plan. To make an appointment with a staff member, please call the main line at 715-793-4236.

There is a lot of thought going into the decisions and time to acquire needed supplies to begin our “new normal” for the elderly program. Wearing of masks, taking temperatures, social distancing and washing your hands & using hand sanitizer will be a required practice for your safety and ours.

Meals will be served “cafeteria style”, place settings will be marked for safe distancing and you can choose your beverage. Staff will assist those in need. There will most likely be two seatings so that diners can safely eat at the site. Cleaning and sanitizing will be done before each meal service. Reserving your mealtime will be “crucial” as we will be limited to the number of elders who can safely be seated at one setting. Carry-out meals will be given to those who did not reserve a spot.

When it is safe to provide, transportation will also change. “Social distancing” (staying six feet away from others) will be followed giving room for six elders on the white bus and 3 people per van.

All riders will be required to wear a mask, use hand sanitizer and social distance while in stores, banks, laundromat and post office. I hope this information has helped you, if you have any questions or concerns please don’t hesitate to contact me or any staff member at (715) 793-4236. If we cannot answer your questions, we will find out who can.

Kindest regards and until we meet again, take care.

Bernard Jacobi, age 85, of Bowler, passed away away on Friday, November 15, 2019. Born on March 14, 1934 in Electro, Texas, Bernard is the son of the late Aloysius and Marie (Miles) Jacobi. After losing his parents at the age of 12, Bernard was raised by his grandparents, Mamie and George Miles and also lived with his best friend from a Comanche family in Gladewater, Texas.

Bernard finished school in Oklahoman City and worked and played with many friends of the Great Chief Quanna Parker descendants. Bernard worked in the oil fields in West Texas and New Mexico and was known to make the comment that he “went from a red neck to a rough neck and to a leather neck” when he joined the United States Marine Corps in 1954. While in the Marines he was stationed in Korea, Japan, and Hawaii. He received an honorable discharge and was awarded various medals including: the National Defense Service Medal, the Korean Service Medal, the Republic of Korea War Service Medal, the United Nations Service Medal, the Marine Corps Good Conduct Medal and an MI Rifle Badge.

After serving in the Marine Corps, Bernard worked for Conveyor Air Craft in San Diego and later for Douglas Air Craft in Lakewood, California. He also worked for a railroad construction company in Knoxb, Montana as a gandy dancer (driving spikes for the railroad). In 1962 Bernard relocated to St. Paul, Minnesota where he worked for Whirpool Corporation and Gould Batteries.

St. Paul is also where Bernard met his wife, Elaine (Welch) Jacobi. The two were married on May 1, 1965 at the Lutheran Church of the Wilderness in the Stockbridge-Munsee Community, Bowler, Wisconsin. Bernard fulfilled a promise to Elaine when they traveled to California. They traveled to Texas to visit his family and they lived in Banning, California in the late 1960’s. Bernard worked at Deutsch Electronics in Banning. After becoming homesick Bernard moved his family back to St. Paul, Minnesota, and eventually to the Stockbridge-Munsee community near Elaine’s parents, Miles and Zena Welch where he enjoyed driving country roads and fishing Shawano Lake. Bernard attended Antigo Technical School and worked as a welder at Atlas Conveyor in Clintonville. Bernard was of great support to his wife in her many tribal projects, putting up with the boys and their messes of paperwork. He loved to cook and work in the garden. He had a love nature and a love for animals, especially his buddy, J.J., a little white Shitzu. Bernard and J.J. loved to go for rides in his Toyota truck. Bernard also loved rides with his daughter and son to the casino and to visit friends.

Bernard is survived by: his “beautiful wife” of 54 years, Elaine; a daughter Leah “Dolly Dumplin” (Ken) Winkler of Stevens Point; six grandchildren, Shane-Pecore-Jacobi, Cory Winkler, Dylan Winkler, Cody Jacobi, Joshua Jacobi, and Ashley (Tim) Tuttle; 11 great grandchildren; sisters, Theresa (Floyd) Jacobi, Delores (Joseph) Caruana, and Pam (Allen) Lanell; brothers, Robert “Michi” Jacobi and Mark (Becky) Stevens; special sister and brother in law, Yvonne and Bill Gleason; numerous nieces, nephews, and cousins; special friends, Larry Klomp, Jerry Young, Jim Schultz, Melinda “Preacher Lady”, Rev. Emie Geetling and Roxy, and Rev. Paul John.

He was preceded in death by: a son, Shannon; his parents; grandparents, Mamie and George Miles; a sister, Joanne Tallent; and a sister-in-law, Patsy Jacobi.

A memorial service for Bernard is being planned for this summer and will be held at the Lutheran Church of the Wilderness.

Bernard’s family would like to extend special thanks to the Stockbridge-Munsee community, the Stockbridge-Munsee Clinic, The Care Hospital and at Home Hospice, and to Evergreen Nursing Home and the special angels that gave enlightening and compassionate care to him.
The concept of a militia and its use represented by history books and popular media has its roots during the Renaissance period. Princes and monarchies and lesser nobility relied upon seasonal military support provided by vassals and their tenant farmers contracted under the feudal system. As early modern states formed under centralized governments, these milices fell out of fashion. Colonial endeavors stretched imperial powers and with it, resources and ability to manage far flung locales across the globe.

By the early seventeenth-century, European colonists were founding settlements for their crown along the eastern coast of North America. Removed from the protection of its professional military, growing colonies formed standing militias in order to provide defensive support for communities. Militias were called up to support state or in the case of colonial North America, the colonial legislators, to provide military service. Individuals forming militias were unpaid and untrained in military tactics and firearms. They were community members, farmers and craftsmen, fathers and sons. This differentiation, professional paid state military vs. non-professional unpaid, is at the heart of the concept or our modern sense of militia. This was the social practice that existed through the colonial period and the context for the foundation of the Stockbridge militia in the mid-1700s.

By the 1770s tensions were rising in Britain’s thirteen North American colonies, particularly Massachusetts and New York. Among others, a number of complaints fueling the atmosphere was a lack of colonial representation and unfair taxation on goods. A series of incidents further pushed hostilities between Crown and colony. The Boston Massacre of 1770 and the rejection on the reliance of imperial goods fomented into acts of rebellion such as the Boston Tea Party in 1773. In response the British Parliament instituted the Massachusetts Government Act to reorganize the colonial government and punish the colony. The Colonial Assembly, what would be known as the First Continental Congress, passed the Suffolk Resolves in 1774. Among a number of resolutions, the Resolve formed the Massachusetts Provincial Congress, subsequently requesting communities outside of British controlled Boston to form and train militias in preparation for potential conflict with Britain. Prominent leaders of the Stockbridge-Munsee, located in Stockbridge, Massachusetts met at the historic Red Lion Inn to discuss and form its own militia. Undoubtedly, the Stockbridge-Munsee would have passionately discussed the benefits, if any, that a standing militia and what that might mean for them in the future (a topic for later discussion). Within months of the Stockbridge militia forming, the first shots of the American Revolutionary War were fired at the Battle of Lexington in spring 1775. Armed conflict ensued over the next eight years interwining the lives of all in the fight for colonial independence from the British Empire.

The Stockbridge militia for its part participated in a number of historic and decisive battles throughout the Revolutionary War. Soon after the Battles of Lexington and Concord, local militias including the Stockbridge militia, laid siege against British controlled Boston for nearly a year, 1775-1776. At the Battle of Bunker Hill, a newly-formed and untrained force saw a major defeat against British troops, however, a victory at Fort Ticonderoga in upstate NY would soon help the Stockbridge militia aid in a devastating blow to Britain. The Stockbridge militia had participated in the capture and surrender of the British garrison at Fort Ticonderoga in May of 1775. Nearly 60 tons of ordnance and artillery including a number of British cannons had been captured. For nearly five months colonial forces transported the artillery and supplies through what was then wooded and mountainous terrain from the fort to the sieged city. Reaching fortifications on the hills outside of Boston by early March of 1776, the Stockbridge militia helped bombard the city and its British troops within. On March 17th, the British troops withdrew from Boston surrendering to the colonial forces.

By 1777 the Stockbridge militia had been reorganized and subsumed into the newly formed Continental Army under command of Jehoiaikim Mtohksin and Abraham Nimnah. Those Stockbridge-Munsee members served on the Saratoga Campaign, fighting at the Siege of Ticonderoga and the Battle(s) of Saratoga. Under command of General John Burgoyne nearly 8,000 British troops aimed at regaining their strategic stronghold laid siege to Fort Ticonderoga. Without fight the British army overwhelmed the stationed Continental Army troops and took possession of the fort. Hoping to converge with two contingencies of British troops and cutoff New England from the southern colonies in the fall of 1777, Burgoyne led his army south to the area outside of Saratoga, New York. Burgoyne quickly found his army cut off and outnumbered by Continental Army forces which included members of the original Stockbridge militia, by that time noted for their battle tactics and bravery. Burgoyne’s reinforcements failed to show up. After two battles, General Burgoyne surrendered the British forces to the Continental Army. Burgoyne’s efforts to cutoff New England from the southern colonies failed. Success of the Continental Army during the Saratoga Campaign largely concluded fighting in the Northern Theater for the remainder of the war. The Stockbridge militia went on to see fighting at the Battle of Monmouth in New Jersey. While stationed outside of Yonkers, New York in August 1778, the Stockbridge-Munsee suffered heavy losses in a small battle against the Loyalists, Hessian troops, and British Dragoons. In a contemporary account of the fighting that day, Hessian captain Chiropractors are commonly known to help patients with back problems. While many clients of chiropractors are people with back problems, chiropractors claim to be able to ease all kind of health conditions. They do this by manipulating and adjusting the spine. Chiropractors believe that if the spinal column is in the correct position and moving freely, then the nerves in the spine may function at their best, which in turn allows other bodily systems to function at their best.

Therefore, chiropractors may treat a variety of conditions, including: neck-shoulder-arm and wrist pain, sciatica, hip-leg-ankle and foot pain. Patients are also seen on a preventive maintenance basis, pain control for chronic back problems, and stress relief. Children also treat with chiropractors to help with ear infections and colic, as a few examples.

Chiropractors do not prescribe drugs or do surgery – they work with the bodies healing potential that is in each and every one of us. More on Chiropractic in future articles.

Molly Miller Interview With Mrs. Mueller's Fourth Grade Bowler Class on April 7, 2020

Molly also talked about ways to be safe during this time of change.

“Emma’s question: How long have you been a Clan Mother? Ten or twelve years, since older people are asked about life.”

“Question from the class: How did you become a Clan Mother? "I was on the Language and Culture Committee. They wanted to be more traditional. I became a Clan Mother."

Molly’s niece Eva had a question about cousins. Molly explained that there aren’t first-third cousins. She said first cousins “were like brothers and sisters.” “Anybody after that is a cousin.”

Libby asked: What does a sweat lodge feel like? “A little wigwam, a little hut, is built. They dig a fire pit outside of it. They have a fire going with the “grandfathers” (rocks). The fire is kept going, and then it is heated up for hours. When we get inside a sweat lodge, we go from left and to the right. The first one in goes all the way around, and walks in the circle. We go in, sit cross-legged, put our legs to the side. Then they talk, a teaching is given by whoever is in charge. They sing some songs, do a prayer... before they go in. They bring in some hot hot rocks on a shovel. The shovel comes in the door of the sweat lodge in there, and it’s dark, because they closed it. They come in with those hot hot rocks, and put it in the middle in the hole.

Then the one who is leading, pours some water, sprinkles water, and oh it gets steamy hot in there! But they do that four times. Then the one who is leading, says ‘Ho!’ and then they’ll sing songs, or talk, pray, and then the leader will say ‘Ho!’ And they’ll open the door and bring some more rocks in, and put some more water on it, and some cedar, maybe. And it gets hotter yet. Then they do it again. They go around the circle, and do some prayers, do some singing, and then when it gets back to the leader, he says “Ho!”, and they open the door, and they bring some more rocks in, and they’re red hot. Did you ever see a red-hot rock? So they put that in there, and then put water on there, and it gets steamy hot! You can imagine being stolen out of your yard? You don’t even get to tell your mom and dad or family goodbye. You just disappear, and they took you to school, and they change you. Now when you come back to the village, you don’t know how to live like an Indian anymore.

There was a general, General Pratt, of the Carlisle Indian School in Pennsylvania. That’s where a lot of our people went. He said, “Kill the Indian, save the man.” What do you think that meant? It’s to take your culture away from you. You didn’t have any buckskin. You didn’t know how to live off the land with the people anymore. You didn’t know your powwow, how to be a good parent, you didn’t know anything about being Indian anymore.

Students in Mrs. Mueller’s class reacted to Molly’s words by putting themselves in the place of the children who were forced to go to Indian boarding schools long ago. Students said “I would stop them.” Students said they would fight to stay.

“Molly begins a discussion about boarding schools. "Now we’re gonna talk a little bit about boarding schools, in the 1800s and 1900s. Children were literally picked up in their villages, stolen. You had to go with this guy in the wagon. From tribes all over, you couldn’t hide out. Couldn’t argue. You had to go. And they took you to a boarding school. The first thing they did was cut your hair off. If you had long hair, yep, they cut your hair. And then they put that medicine in there to make sure you didn’t have lice. And then they put you in a uniform. So now, back then, you would have had your powwow dress on, your buckskin... They would have taken that first month, and then you would stay with them, and you’d never see it again. They put you in a uniform. And then you had to go to school. So what did you learn in school? You learn how to read and write. You learned to write, and you learned arithmetic, math and religion. And as you got older, then you were taught a trade. You had to work in the washroom, or the kitchen, or help in the fields. You had to stay there and graduate. Some kids ran away. And because they didn’t know where they were going, or because of the weather, they didn’t make it. They died out there. Some kids, if they got picked up, they had to come back, and go through all this again. It was a very very bad experience for most kids that went to boarding schools back in those olden days. Can you imagine being stolen out of your yard? You don’t even get to tell your mom and dad or family goodbye. You just disappear, and they took you to school, and they change you. Now when you come back to the village, you don’t know how to live like an Indian anymore.

“Molly also talked about ways to be safe during this time of change. Emma’s question: How long have you been a Clan Mother? Ten or twelve years, since older people are asked about life.”

“Question from the class: What is discipline? Molly asked, “What is discipline?” One student said it had consequences. Another said it was something that has consequences. Someone else said it is when you do something against the rules. Another student said there has to be a reason for discipline. Another student said it’s what happens when people don’t follow directions. Molly said, “In boarding school, you certainly couldn’t do that (not follow directions).

Question from the class: Do we have boarding schools now? Yes we do. Some kids around here still go to boarding schools. They are schools that are all Native. Wahpeton ND is for grade school, and Flandreau SD is for high school.”

Wahpeton ND is for grade school, and Flandreau SD is for high school.” Molly went on to explain how today’s boarding schools are different than those of the past. She said, “They don’t take their ways of life away. They even have culture club. You just go there to learn. There’s still curfews. I know they do lots of cleaning. My girl went there. She said all they did was clean. It was the cleanest school they’d ever been to. Because that’s how you make money to buy the shoes you want or something like that. So there are schools out there.”

Students explored a Mohican Language website: mohicanlanguage.com. It had a voice dictionary, which was amazing. Students could see the translation of each word and phrase, along with the correct pronunciation. Students enjoyed trying the new words, and learning about the Mohican Language. We have plans to continue to learn more about the language and culture from Molly.

After Molly’s interview was done, students took an online quiz on Kahoot! Molly had a chance to try it for herself before meeting with Mrs. Mueller’s students. She had a chance to observe them take the test during our virtual class. The Bluejeans app is what most students at Bowler are using with the teaching staff there.

This was a great learning experience for the students and everyone involved!”

Editor’s Note: It is not always the easiest to come up with interesting pictures for the center pages of the Mohican News. Especially so in these COVID-19 times here in the Stockbridge-Munsee Community, where the self-isolation order has been extended through June 30, 2020! We get our pictures from gatherings of people and sadly, those are being cancelled left and right. Beginning with graduations in June, the Fourth of July will be tampered down in some respects in cities across the country; here at home we will miss the Chemon Fishing Derby this year; and for the first time, the 44th Annual Mohican Pow Wow has been cancelled.

So, as I was perusing Facebook, I came across some beautiful pictures of flowers posted by my cousin, Sandy Johnson. I looked out of the window at home and could only see some Trilliums in the woods and the rest of the area was just greening up. I wondered how she had such beautiful flowers and one thing lead to another and I realized there is quite the distance from her home area to mine. It is four hours and forty-three minutes from Bowler, WI (where I live) to Waterman, IL (where my cousin, Sandy Johnson lives) via highway 41. It is also 260 actual miles from one place to the other so Sandy would, no doubt, get there a lot faster than I, based on driving speed!

To make a long story short(er), we are including flower pictures sent by Sandy and other friends of hers from her area of the country. We also have some pictures from a wizard here in Wisconsin, Clorissa Vele. And of course, we had to include pictures from a cousin here in Wisconsin; thanks Angie Williams but I do not think that picture is going to do well in the county fair! Until we can all get back together outside, enjoy!

Leadership Shawano Co. Celebrates 20 Years

Program Thinks Big when it comes to community projects (SHAWANO-WI)—Leadership Shawano County (LSC) is celebrating its 20th year of growing leaders. LSC is a community-based leadership development program operated by the Shawano Country Chamber of Commerce, in partnership with the University of Wisconsin Extension-Shawano County. With 327 graduates to date, the program has facilitated 47 community services projects since 2000. Each year class members identify needs in the community or gaps in services to address these needs. They then split into groups and address those needs through a service project. Most projects are completed during the nine months of programming and results of these projects are announced during the graduation ceremony.

Crawford, Class 20 has ended, but due to Covid-19, their graduation has been postponed for July 2020, pending the ability to meet in person. Some projects in recent years have been multiple year, multiple phase processes. For example, after hearing about the need for a Boys and Girls Club (BGC) in Shawano for many years; curiosity had program coordinator Wendy Crawford wondering how LSC could help. She asked “What if LSC would use their class project time to handle one phase of a multiple year project? They could move the project as far as they can take in nine months, then turn it over to the next class to work on the following nine months.” With this approach in mind, Crawford began researching what it would take to open a Boys and Girls Club in Shawano.

Phase one involved a community assessment in order to demonstrate the need for a BGC in Shawano. LSC Class 14 (2014) created and conducted the needs assessment which consisted of several surveys conducted by students and parents from the Shawano School District along with interviewing 30 community stakeholders. Phase two was handled by LSC class 15 (2015) which required the creation of an advisory board and arranging a charter agreement with an existing Boys and Girls Club. Luckily, the Boys and Girls Club of Greater Green Bay offered to take Shawano under their wing. They also needed and received approval from the Shawano School Board to create a school-based site at Olga Brener Intermediate. In the third-year, LSC developed a capital campaign to raise the first year of funding ($100,000), while obtaining pledges for the second and third year. Alumni from LSC class 14 and 15 assisted with this, along with members of University of Wisconsin Extension-Shawano County and other dedicated advisory board members. “Fundraising is not easy, but our community saw the need for a club and thanks to the generosity of many individuals, foundations and organizations, the funding goal was met,” Crawford shared.

LSC was very happy to announce the opening of the Boys and Girls Club of Shawano at Olga Brener Intermediate School on January 23, 2017. “We proved that when a dedicated group of people, with the right skills and connections join to commit to the process, big things can be accomplished,” Crawford remarked.

With the Boys and Girls Club success under their belt LSC decided to tackle the idea of creating a signature event in Shawano. This large event remained an ongoing conversation within the community and presented a daunting challenge. Any time this idea was brought up in the past, it was dismissed because of the sheer volume of work and time needed to properly plan a large-scale event.

When identifying what makes their community unique and creating a festival around it, this group chose Sundrop soda, a local Shawano favorite. Twig’s Beverage in Shawano operates the only remaining plant bottling Sundrop in reusable bottles. Using the multi-year approach, LSC Class 16 (2016) created the concept of Sundrop Dayz. What came next, still surprises all involved. “Our community fully endorsed the concept of Sundrop Dayz. The City of Shawano, area businesses, media outlets, corporate sponsors and nonprofit organizations unanimously supported this project and helped us every step of the way,” said Crawford. LSC class 17 (2017) worked on logistics, while the members of class 16 continued to work on the other aspects of planning. After 20 months of planning meetings, the First Annual Sundrop Dayz took place Friday, June 1 and Saturday, June 2, 2017. Sundrop Dayz now attracts thousands and officially kicks off summer for the community and visitors. Sundrop Dayz features well-known regional and local bands on 2 stages throughout the 2 days. The fest starts with Friday night fish fry. Saturday offers a flea market and 5K, followed by music on the main and small stages, a craft show, kid’s inflatables, magic show, face painting, local food favorites and small stages, a craft show, 5K, followed by music on the main stage and small stages, a craft show, face painting, local food favorites and a variety of organizations including retail, hospitality, advertising, healthcare, insurance and nonprofits.

Nonprofit agencies volunteer in many areas and sell concessions which gives them an opportunity to share their profits and earn money for their programs. The SunDrop Dayz Board was extremely sad to have canceled SunDrop Dayz 2020 due to the COVID-19 pandemic. Everything is in place for SunDrop Dayz on June 4th and June 5th, 2021. Impactful projects continued with this year’s class. Class 20 developed a “Friends of Mountain Bay Trail Shawano County.” The mission of this group is to maintain, promote and sustain the trail for current and future generations, promote healthy activities, share cultural and ecological knowledge, and enhance local economies along the trail. The process included developing bylaws, forming a board, creating contacts and resources for future board activities, and applying for 501c3 nonprofit status. When nonprofit status is obtained, this entity can qualify for state funding which will help in maintaining the trail.

Leadership Shawano County Program Coordinator Wendy Crawford recently retired after 15 years with the program. “I am very proud of the accomplishments, and grateful to have found such meaningful and impactful work over the last 15 years. The people I’ve met and worked with, the connections made and service projects completed have led to a very rewarding career.” Crawford shared she will not be retiring from her involvement in the community and plans to remain active. The program coordinator duties will be handed over to newly hired Marla Sparks whose vast experience in marketing, public relations, event coordination, fundraising, and organizational skills will allow LSC to continue to grow and do big things. For more information on how you or your organization can help make an impact on our community for Leadership Shawano County and Class 21, please visit www.leadershipshawanocounty.com or email Marla Sparks at marla.leadershsc@gmail.com.

CMN Names Sanapaw and Edler For Academic, Institute Offices

Ms. Sanapaw is the daughter of Alphia and Raymond Creapeau and the late Lyle Welch and Rebecca is the fiancé of Mohican News Editor Jeff Vele.

KESHENA – College of Menominee Nation staff members Geraldine Sanapaw and Rebecca Edler have assumed additional leadership responsibilities at CMN under the direction of Interim President Christopher Caldwell.

In making the appointments, Caldwell noted that both women have substantial administrative experience in their respective areas and will move into their new roles seamlessly.

“We begin a new fiscal year at the College in July and a new fall semester in August,” Caldwell says. “As a result of the COVID-19 pandemic, we are also beginning many new operational changes in the way we serve our students and other stakeholders. The timing seemed right to enlist these two seasoned managers at this pivotal point.”

Sanapaw, a 15-year employee of CMN, moves from the title Registrar to Interim Chief of Academic Affairs. Her priorities will include the 2020-2021 implementation of COVID-19 responses within the academic program. Also on the docket will be planning and preparation for CMN’s 2021-2020 budget and continuing the College’s work with other local education agencies. Sanapaw, the daughter of Alphia and Raymond Creapeau and the late Lyle Welch.

Sanapaw began her higher education with an Associate Degree from CMN. She also holds a Bachelor of Science from Silver Lake College, MBA from Lakeland College, and is currently pursuing a doctoral degree from Concordia University Wisconsin in Leading Innovation and Continuous Improvement.

As the new Acting Director of CMN’s Sustainable Development Institute, Edler is adding Institute-level responsibilities for plan and budget development, grant administration, and supervision to her previous role as Sustainability Coordinator. Prior to being named Sustainability Coordinator in 2013, Edler worked for several years as a CMN Admissions and Recruiting Specialist and Academic Advisor. She holds a Master of Arts in Counseling/Higher Education from Lakeland, B.A. in Social Science from Silver Lake, and Associate Degree in Applied Science in Supervisory Management. Edler worked for the Kimberly-Clark Corporation and as Program Director of the American Indian Center of the Fox Valley, a program of Goodwill Industries, before joining the CMN staff.

The assignments are interim, Caldwell adds, but the appointments come with full authority and confidence. While priorities will include the 2020-2021 implementation of COVID-19 responses within the academic program. Also on the docket will be planning and preparation for CMN’s 2021-2020 budget and continuing the College’s work with other local education agencies.

NCAI Statement on the Removal of Christopher Columbus Statues

WASHINGTON, DC | The National Congress of American Indians (NCAI), the largest and most representative American Indian and Alaska Native organization in the country, does not acknowledge Christopher Columbus as a hero.

To Indigenous peoples, he was the opposite.

[O]ut of timbers for the Santa Maria, . . . Columbus built a fort [on Hispaniola], the first European military base in the Western Hemisphere. . . . He took . . . Indian prisoners and put them aboard his two remaining ships. . . . [H]e got into a fight with Indians who refused to trade as many bows and arrows as he and his men wanted. Two were run through with swords and bled to death. Then the Nina and the Pinta set sail. . . . When the weather turned cold, the Indian prisoners began to die. . . .

This growing movement across the country to rid our shared spaces of symbols that represent hate, genocide, and bigotry illustrates that it is past time for all cities to stand on the right side of history moving forward,” said NCAI President Fawn Sharp.

NCAI also strongly supports the recent actions taken by United States citizens and the international community calling for proper law enforcement reforms and the recognition of basic human rights for the African American community and all communities of color. We are humbled that these voices are including Indian Country’s perspectives. NCAI encourages local governments and their citizens to seek mutual understandings of their diverse perspectives and to develop peaceful solutions that are mindful of all human beings and our rich distinct and shared histories. Together we can build the tomorrow our children deserve to lead.

Mashpee cont from page Seven: has the authority to diminish or in any way undermine that unique political relationship and standing. We will remain vigilant and stand united with Mashpee who have shaped and supported this country from the arrival of the first European settlers and will coexist as sovereign equals for generations to come."

USET SPF and NCAI share a profound commitment to Tribal sovereignty and the restoration of Tribal homelands. In light of this commitment, we have been advocating for a fix to the Supreme Court decision in Carcieri v. Salazar since it was handed down in 2009. Carcieri has created a deeply inequitable 2-class system, in which some Tribal Nations have the ability to restore their homelands and others do not. This 2-class system serves to deny these Tribal Nations a critical component of the trust relationship, vital aspects of the exercise of inherent sovereignty, and the opportunity to qualify for several government programs.

We continue to call for the immediate passage of a fix that contains the two features necessary to restore parity to the land-into-trust process:

1. A reaffirmation of the status of current trust lands; and
2. Confirmation that the Secretary has authority to take land into trust for all federally recognized Tribal Nations.

While this decision is an important step toward righting centuries of wrong against the Mashpee Wampanoag Tribe, our collective work is not finished. We urge and await a positive determination from DOI on Mashpee’s homelands once and for all. Our organizations will continue to fight for the restoration of Tribal homelands and the full delivery of trust and treaty obligations. We call upon DOI to recommit itself to the restoration of homelands, the trust obligation, and Tribal sovereignty.
